FUCHSIA BOLIVIANA
FUCHSIA FASCINATION
FUCHSIA JULES DALOGES

Fuchsias . . .

NOTE—We take this opportunity to thank our many friends for the patronage given us in this very popular class of plants and again we greet you with a much more complete list of varieties, undoubtedly the largest list given by any concern in the United States. We also cordially invite you to visit our gardens to see our specimen plants in bloom, the best season of flowers extending from May to October. You will note many new varieties recently imported from England not yet released for sale. However these may be ordered immediately and upon release by the United States government they will be shipped you at once.

NAMES—The names given are those most generally accepted and we are constantly working to clear up nomenclature where in doubt, in fact have imported plants from abroad merely to clear up doubt in some instances. The varieties in our previous list have been thoroughly checked for duplications and where a name is missing in this list from the old one it will generally be found under a more correct name.

CULTURE—Fuchsias love the shade and moisture and for this reason are well adapted for the shady side of buildings where they give a wealth of bloom. They respond to a rich soil and applications of well rotted manure is advocated with additional feedings of more concentrated plant food. They will not stand an outside temperature below 20 degrees Fahrenheit.

AMERICAN FUCHSIA SOCIETY—This society, organized by many lovers of Fuchsias several years ago, has grown in membership to a large organization extending over the United States and sends out data at intervals relating to Fuchsias. Those wishing to avail themselves of this membership, at a cost of $1.00 per year, may send their application direct to the Society at 1025 Second Avenue, Oakland, California, or may send to us and we will forward to their office.

PRICE—Price of all plants listed except where noted otherwise.

Plants in 2½ inch pots at 15c.

4 inch pots, 6 to 8 inches high, at 25c.

4 inch pots, 12 inches high, at 35c.

6 inch pots, 1 to 1½ feet, at 50c.

Some varieties in larger sizes at 75c and $1.00 each.

12 plants at 10 times the single price.

For those who wish we will make up lots of dozen or more of our selection, all different at the dozen price.

Varieties marked with asterisk (*) are not available before May 15, 1933, due to the unprecedented freeze of December, 1932.

Fuchsia Species

- ARBORESCENS (Syringaeflora)—Mexico. Erect terminal panicles of small rosy lilac flowers. Different from all other Fuchsias. Strong growing.
